Boy Fatally Injured, Companion Hurt When Struck By Automobile

Barton Kelder Is Dead and Another Swineck Is Severely Injured—Were Riding To School on a Bike.

Barton Kelder, aged 11, grandson of John W. Kelder of Samsonville, with whom he made his home, was fatally injured and a companion, Alvin Swineck, of the same age, suffered a compound fracture of the skull when the bicycle on which they were riding was struck by an automobile at Samsonville about 12:30 this morning.

The two boys were on their way to school. Swineck riding behind Kelder on the bicycle, when the machine was struck by a car driven by Clara Margaret Wynkoop of Kerhonkson, who was on her way to the Aly, where she teaches school.

According to the story told Deputy Sheriff Abram Molynaux, the boys were riding the wheel on the left side of the road while directly behind them were young Swineck's two sisters. It is alleged that as the car approached they started to cross over to their right side of the road. The car missed the two girls, but the left front of the car struck the bicycle, smashing it. The Kelder boy died within a few minutes after the accident. His companion was brought to the Benedictine Hospital, where he was treated by Dr. Bush. His condition at 1 o'clock today was reported to be fair.

Sergeant Hopkins and Trooper Soules joined Deputy Molynaux in investigating the affair and Coroner Howard B. Hamilton also went to the scene of the accident and will hold an inquest later. No arrest was made.

The Kelder boy's mother has a position in the Hudson River State Hospital at Poughkeepsie. His father is dead.

Curry Attends Baseball Game

New York, April 17 (P)—The gray fox of Union Square, John F. Curry, coolly walked out of Tammany's civic strife today to sun himself at the Polo Grounds.

His rebellious braves were prepared to take advantage of the regular Tuesday "receiving day" at Tammany Hall to bring to a climax their demands for Curry's resignation as leader.

With Curry attending the baseball opener between the New York Giants and Philadelphia, the matter of replacing district leaders must go over for another day.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ACTIVITIES ANNOUNCED.

The New Era League held its regular monthly meeting April 5. The new officers presided and were welcomed by a large attendance. The biannual meeting which convened in the First Presbyterian Church in Newburgh on the 12th, was attended by several members and they report a worthwhile meeting.

Wednesday, April 18, at 7:45, Mr. Goodrich Gates, chairman of missionary education, has planned a meeting at the manse, 125 Tremper Avenue, to which all the ladies of the church are cordially invited and urged to attend.

The Bride's Mother Type

New York—If you are matronly, now is the time to drape yourself in sleeve or less classic folds. The state-of-the-art sketch is from Lucien Lelong and had been greatly admired by women who appreciate dignity in clothes more than quirkiness.

It is distinctly a woman's dress and one that could be copied with sleeves and with its skirt shortened. In other words converted into an afternoon or high noon type of frock with which one wears a hat. A bride's mother gown if ever there was one.

With such a gown what is more lovely than a sandal instead of the inevitable opera pump? It's a year of sandals, not all as extreme as they sound, or as are displayed. Nor need one go to the extreme of omitting stockings and tiny toe nails, a fad however which should not be admitted to being a fad since a number of the young things are going in for it.

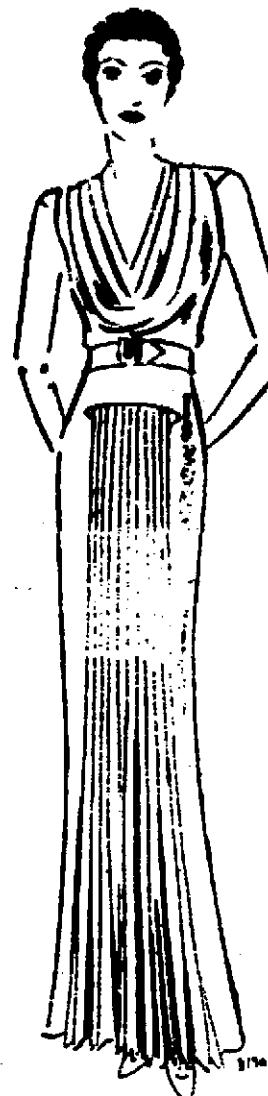

My readers frequently write me asking what they should wear on a cruise, or for shipboard or hotel dining and the answer is found in this dress, with or without sleeves and made of some of the lovely satins that may be packed without much damage. Such a dress in black, a bright blue, beige, purple, red or any color which seems best for you and will give you confidence dining in any port or at sea.

A caplet or little jacket in dramatic contrast of color would be my choice. Many of the newest summer weight wraps have inverted pleats or some back flounce or flare.

The Pendulum and the Peplum

The varieties of the peplum fashion which have been interpreted in tailored, ruffed and even in sports fashions make much of the notion that slight width or flare below the waistline suggests a slender thigh beneath it. Perhaps it is the regular swing of the fashion pendulum, which makes much of the two-piece idea in costume construction. We have seldom seen so much of the two-piece mood in printed dresses as appears this season.

An evening dress illustrates the forward fulness which Lucien Lelong sponsored in his new collection. This is interpreted in a pleated panel and a draped bodice.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Here is something for residents of Jellico, Texas, to wave flags about:

The scene is a rooming house in the student quarter of Miles. On a balcony a young blonde woman begins to sing, and the other tenants peer forth to listen enthralled.

Among the audience is Louis Koenig, a Russian violinist; Count Andres de Segura, for 12 years a Metropolitan opera baritone, and Rosemary Clooney, who 20 years ago was singing the title role for 100 consecutive performances. And there are others, representing in reel and real lives careers that are musical and otherwise old in fame.

But the young blonde woman on the balcony, to whose singing they listen in enchantment, is Jellico's own Grace Moore—returning to the screen as a star of "One Night Of Love."

Adventure Film Cycle

It looks like another movie cycle set under way by "Treasure Island," now in production. Universal has "Swiss Family Robinson" on its schedule—which makes it just another step or two to a new version of "Robinson Crusoe."

American Grub Is Useful

More than 300,000 acres of prickly pear-infested land in northeastern Australia was reclaimed through the importation from America of a grub which eats the roots of the plant.

When suffering from what is known as spots before the eyes," says diagnostic Dot, "it's time to send the dress to the cleaners."

Not just when everybody thought "Little Women" had impressed its stars, a studio changes the title of "Little Miss Marker" to "Half-Way Deceit." Which is not so unusual, except that in this case the story, as we hear it, is completely decent.

Henry Wilcoxson, a guest of a young fellow, is dieting, after a fast—that is, eating to keep up his weight. The former he wears as "Narc Anthony" all during working hours weighs 150 pounds, threatening to wear him down to a mere bantam-weight bulk if he isn't careful.

Avoiding The Curious

Richard Barthelmess' name is listed in the telephone directory—but if you dial the number you'll get only his business office, not his home. He keeps it there so that "visiting firemen" who are really friends of his can reach him.

At Hollywood parties this is a familiar sight: Harry Green, surrounded by an appreciative crowd, befooled them all with the most dangerous card tricks imaginable.

But the sad part of it is that Harry, in a real game with money at stake, is rated one of the town's least lucky gamblers.

Custard Suggestions

When baking custards pare the dish in a gas of hot water and bake in slow oven. Too quick cooking or over cooking will cause the mixture to become watery or curdled. Custards are delicious and should be frequently served during the season. They are economical, add nutrition.

"ALL-BRAN WILL ALWAYS BE A PART OF MY DIET"

Delicious Cereal Corrected His Constipation

If you suffer from constipation, read this fine letter:

"I have been troubled for years with constipation. During this time, I have tried almost every known remedy. Then some one recommended eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and the proper results followed immediately.

"Since eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN each morning, there has been a general improvement in my health without the ill effects that I formerly experienced when taking laxatives. Hereafter, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will always be a part of my diet." —Mr. E. G. Himes, 1201 E. 7th St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Research shows Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this "cereal way" safer than risking patent medicines?

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient to relieve ordinary constipation. With each meal, in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Be sure to ask for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Look out! you're getting coarse cosmetic skin!

Thousands of Girls menaced by COSMETIC SKIN adopt Hollywood's Beauty Method

You can use all the Rouge and Powder you wish, yet guard against ugly COSMETIC SKIN this modern way...

"CAN my pores be growing large? And horrors! Is that a blackhead?" Suddenly some unhappy girl discovers her skin is growing coarse, unlovely—she is being robbed of beauty!

She may not realize it, but she has COSMETIC SKIN—a modern complexion trouble easy to guard against.

Cosmetics Harmless If removed this way

Cosmetics need not harm even delicate skin unless they are allowed to choke the pores. Many women who think they are removing cosmetics thoroughly are leaving bits of stale make-up in the pores day after day. When this happens, the pores gradually become clogged, distended. They cannot function normally and soon the warning signals of cosmetic skin appear.

Don't run this risk. You won't. Lux Toilet Soap is made to remove cosmetics thoroughly. Its rich, ACTIVE lather sinks deeply into the pores, carries swiftly away every vestige of dust, grease, soap con-metics. Before you apply fresh make-up during the day and ALWAYS before you go to bed at night, remove stale make-up thoroughly the modern Lux Toilet Soap way.

This simple care protects the skin—and gives a true beauty treatment every time you use it.

Precious elements in this soap

Remember, Lux Toilet Soap contains precious elements Nature herself puts in skin to keep it youthful. The Hollywood stars, whose complexions are worth millions, have used it for years.

"Of course I use cosmetics, but thanks to LUX Toilet Soap I never worry about Cosmetic Skin"—says

While his master was away on a long trip, Jester, the pretty blonde, tried him to see his two old aunts. Auntie—Auntie, do you like living alone with your daddy? Do you hug and kiss him?

Jester—Oh, yes. He hugged and kissed daddy, just right.

Nurse supervising. That's wrong. You should say "I buried and kissed daddy, just right."

Jester—That was Friday night.

It there were more words of praise to the home and less reprimand and criticism, there would be fewer cases for the divorce courts. How long has it been since you complimented your wife?

People who think NRA is a brand new invention may be surprised to learn that almost every phase of it, except equality for capital and labor, was tried in the reign of the Roman Emperor Diocletian 16 centuries ago, and again in the reign of Queen Elizabeth of England 300 years ago.

100 Men at Opening Dinner of Y.M.C.A. Financial Drive

Bow Workers Heard C. H. Dreshman Talk About New Social Ideas — Financial Drive Will Be Successful.

"The world is thinking along new social lines today, thank God," said C. H. Dreshman, New York businessman and former Y. M. C. A. secretary, the main speaker at the dinner during the maintenance campaign for the Kingston Y. M. C. A., held in the gymnasium Monday evening. "What the speaker added, the message is not in recognizing the fact that the rugged individual is the soul of the new work."

The statement followed the declaration that "there is no question but that the world is in a crisis condition today," with the speaker expressing that it is "the darkness that precedes the dawn." The speaker found the people heading toward the collective idea in human activity, with increasing emphasis being laid on government responsibility paternalism in government and the economic and social ideas.

Despite all this, Mr. Dreshman argued, the individual must be assured of the work is to succeed. Illustrating his point he referred to the vastness of the universe, with planets whose light takes millions of light years to reach this earth and yet the culminating point of all this stupendous creation is man, who, said the speaker, "is the most glorious thing in the eye of God, made in His own image."

Carrying out the thought the speaker said "this meeting tonight is dealing with eternal forces when dealing with boy life," for the solution of these great questions of the day depends upon the interest taken in boyhood and young manhood.

"The man that loves his city and his country," said Mr. Dreshman, "is a fool not to see the importance of boyhood." He closed his earnest address with a plea to the workers and business men present to realize that they were working for the only really permanent and worth-while thing, "life and character."

Harry H. Flemming, general chairman of the campaign now under way to raise $15,000 for the support of the work of the Y. M. C. A. this year, presided over the meeting Monday evening, composed of over 100 workers on the various teams and prominent officials, professional and business men of the city. Mr. Flemming was president of the association in 1911 when the campaign to raise $15,000 for enlargement and modernization of the present building was carried to a successful conclusion.

Following the invocation by Rev. Frank B. Seeley, of the Fair Street Reformed Church, an excellent dinner was served by the ladies of the Elmendorf Street Presbyterian Church and the Church of the Comforter. At the conclusion of the dinner Chairman Flemming introduced a number of prominent guests present, including Mayor C. J. Heisman, Dr. Lucas Boeve, president of the Kingston Ministerial Association; J. Allan Wood, chief of police; B. C. Van Ingen, superintendent of schools; Alfred Schmid, president of the Rotary Club; Harry Halverson, president of Kiwanis; Mrs. George Rice, president of the Y. W. C. A.; Miss Jane Estey, secretary of the Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. George DuBois, president of the Y. Auxiliary; William A. Wright, Boy Scout executive; W. C. Kingman, Joseph M. Fowler and A. D. Rose, of the board of trustees and four members of the "Old Guard" of the 1911 campaign—Walter P. Crane, Charles R. O'Connor, A. D. Rose and Fred J. Waiter.

Clarence S. Rowland, president of the association, was called upon as the first speaker of the evening. He told of the great need of the association for more funds if the work is to be carried on and paid tribute to Secretary Clarence S. Schoonmaker, N. H. Fuller, boys' work secretary and B. T. Van Deusen, membership secretary, for the way they had carried on during the past year under great handicap. He said that during the past three or four years there had been the utmost economy in management practiced and added that in going out among the people he had not heard one criticism regarding the work being done, nor of the staff. To do the work that should be done, said Mr. Rowland, the money asked for at this time must be raised. He predicted that it would be raised, saying, "We are going to put the Y. M. C. A. back on the map where it belongs."

Secretary Schoonmaker said that the past year had been a hard one and the loss of Carl Foster, physical director, who had been necessarily dropped a year ago because of lack of funds, had been a great handicap. He said that the remaining officers had done their best to carry on the work, but they had discovered that it was impossible to be in more than two or three places at one time and the work had suffered. Mr. Schoonmaker told how 26 years ago as a small boy he walked into the old building that formerly did as Y. M. C. A. headquarters and laid down $5 that had been given to him by his grandmother as a birthday present. He felt very proud of his membership at the time and he had never lost his interest in the work which, to him, was "more than just a job." He hoped that as a result of the present campaign it would be found possible to once more engage a physical director, "for the sake of the boys and the work."

Chairman Flemming replied to Mr. Schoonmaker, "The campaign is going over." He said he felt more than ever assured of that as he looked over the gathering present. He continued with some reference to the campaign in 1911 when they raised $75,000 and at which time they were told it was foolish to attempt such a thing and that they might better attend to business. Mr. Flemming then introduced A. H. Greeley, secretary of the Central Branch Y. M. C. A. of Brooklyn, who was the director of the campaign in Kingston 22 years ago.

Mr. Greeley said that he had left important business matters in New York to be present that evening and once more looked into the face of the chairman and of those with whom he had worked years ago. He referred to the fact that in May the Kingston Association will celebrate its 42nd birthday and he asked those present to consider the hundreds of boys and men that had been helped during those years through its activities. Mr. Greeley said that a few days ago he called up a man in the city and asked him what he knew about the Kingston Y. The answer was that it was a splendid staff and was doing a fine work. He was told that he would be surprised to find what a fine record was being made by the hard working board of directors and the excellent staff. Mr. Greeley said that the Y. M. C. A. and similar organizations, had been passing through some difficult years and that at a time when boys particularly needed their help and guidance.

Mr. Greeley told the workers present that a good salesman must believe in the house he represents in the goods he has to sell and then must put enthusiasm and intelligence into his work. He urged them to go out with the feeling that they were personally responsible for raising the $15,000 which has been set as the goal needed for carrying on the work this year.

C. S. Treadwell for the initial gifts committee said that the committee had been working hard and had been much encouraged with conditions as they found them. He did not want to say too much, but told the workers that already they had received in contributions from the trustees and directors the sum of $2,300.

Howard R. St. John, general field chairman, and E. R. Pike, who is assisting in the campaign, spoke briefly, following which the program closed with the address by Mr. Dreshman.

During the service of the dinner there was music by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra and there was a period of singing of popular songs led by Paul Zucca, with Danny Blitner at the piano.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowel and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "hard" bowel movement, a dull, tired feeling, sick headache, torpid liver—constipation, etc., try quick, safe and pleasant Olive Tablets. One or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take them every night to keep right. Try them, 10c, 35c, etc.

Kingston: "Death Takes a Holiday." A stranger beautiful story of Death who comes to earth disguised as a human being. He has waited for a long time the reason that man fears him, and he decides to mingle with humanity and discover the feelings and emotions of mortal existence. So he comes to earth and attends a house party under the name of Prince Sirk. Here he finds romance and desire for the first time, and he falls completely in love with a beautiful girl. Death takes a holiday, but like all he does, it ceases before it has hardly begun. This play is one of the most intelligent and brilliant offerings ever to come from the movie mills and it is a standout production of unusual merit. Excellent direction, masterful performances by a cast of real players and the unusual theme all blend into a perfect bit of thought provoking drama. Heading the cast is Frederic March in the title role, and supporting him are Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor, Sir Guy Standing and Gail Patrick. Worth seeing.

Orpheum: "Devil Tiger" and "Marriage on Approval." Timorous people will do well to ignore the first offering, a story of the Malay jungle and a party of people who struggle through it in search of the devil tiger. It is excellent entertainment for those who enjoy the sight of real danger, for jungle beasts fight to the death before the eyes of the camera on many occasions. In fact this talkie is one of the best edited and filmed of all the travelogue offerings of the past months. The plot isn't so much, although there is a smattering of romance woven into the story. Harry Woods and Marion Burns are featured in the cast. "Marriage on Approval" is one of those modern things with Donald Billaway, Phyllis Barry and Barbara Kent heading the cast.

Broadway: "Broadway Through a Keyhole." Walter Winchell, and who hasn't heard of him, comes to the screen in the first movie of his own contriving. Naturally, the story is one of these peek-a-boo things behind the scenes along Broadway. It's the tale of a racketeer and a crooner, both in love with a night club entertainer. Believe it or not, the crooner is the victim in his quest for love. The bright lights of Broadway, the dances and songs and comedy form a perfect background for a story of this type. Constance Cummings, Russ Colombo, Paul Kelly and Frances Williams are featured in important roles.

Tomorrow

Kingston: "Melody in Spring". Charles Ruggles, Mary Boland, Lanny Ross and Ann Southern are the main cogs in the wheel of this swell musical comedy that has all those essentials necessary for an entertaining picture. It seems that Charles Ruggles is a wealthy fellow, making his money from the manufacture of dog biscuits. He has a lovely daughter who has made the error of falling in love with a crooner against the wishes of her father. Of course, the old boy doesn't stand a chance against the romantic singer, and he finally has to give up and let love take its course. Features of this show are the singing of Lanny Ross, the grand comedy of Charles Ruggles and Mary Boland, and the capable direction and dramatic skill of the cast.

Orpheum: "Design for Living" and "Big Time or Bust". One is an artist, the other an author. Both are in love with the same girl. She is in love with both of them. So they form a trio, each loving the other. That is Noel Coward's idea of a daring unconventional plot, and it is just that plus subtle direction.

Frederic March, Gary Cooper, Miriam Hopkins and Edward Everett Horton head the cast. Mixed into the emotions of the players is a vein of comedy that helps keep the play from dragging. "Big Time or Bust" offers Regis Toomey and Gloria Stein in the second feature picture on the bill.

Broadway: "Constant Woman". Claire Windsor and Conrad Nagel are featured in this marriage drama that doesn't offer much originality of plot. It was released about a year ago and tells the story of Claire Windsor's desertion of Conrad Nagel, and how this effects the lives of both.

Our Regrets

"Whatever our regrets may be," said Al Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "we can always find solace in the thought that we might have selected even worse mistakes."

New York April 17 (AP)—Financial markets felt a little better today, but they still showed signs of yesterday's headache.

Liquidation tended to dry up stocks and there were a few modest rallies in scattered groups. Traders kept one eye on Washington and the other on the grain pit. There was little stimulus from either direction and the volume of equity transactions was the lowest in several sessions.

Shares of American Telephone came back about 2 points, and preferred issues of U. S. Rubber, Allis-Chalmers, Mullins Manufacturing, M-K-T, and American Beet Sugar recovered 1 to around 2. Small gains were registered by Public Service of New Jersey, Consolidated Gas, Case, Internationals, Harvester, Sears, Roebuck and Montgomery Ward. Some department store stocks such Spiegel, May-Stern, Interstate and National advanced a point or more. Chrysler was a bit higher, but the other motors were "virtually" at a standstill. U. S. Steel and many others were about unchanged.

JAMES F. LOUGHREN
County Superintendent of Highways of Ulster County, New York.

Bill of particulars furnished, as demanded by H. H. Flemming, counsel for Mr. Loughran, before the Board of Supervisors of the County of Ulster, in the matter of the charges preferred against James F. Loughran, County Superintendent of Highways of Ulster County.

To James F. Loughran, County Superintendent of Highways, and Harry H. Flemming, Esq.:

The following is the Bill of Particulars demanded by James F. Loughran, County Superintendent of Highways, in writing dated April 1, 1934, so far as the undersigned has knowledge of the facts demanded, and all of which is based upon the best information now available and in the undersigned's possession.

I. Reiterates and re-litigates, and restates each and every one of the statements and allegations contained in the charges referred to as though the same were heretofore set forth and made a part of this Bill of Particulars.

II. Refutes and denies, the to are those described in Paragraph 12 of the demand for a Bill of Particulars, of being submitted, however, that the County Superintendent of Highways is not entitled to have so much of the particular requested in said paragraph as ass to the cost at which such highway could have been built under contract, or the sources of information as to such cost, or the names of contractors estimating the same, or the date of such estimate, it being submitted, however, that none of such records are public records. As to the costs as carried out by the County of Ulster, it is submitted that such information is, if at all, peculiarly within the knowledge of the County Superintendent of Highways; and so far as is known, the exact date and places of the conversations being unknown at this time. Similar statements were likewise made to the same party with respect to the same township during the Spring of 1929, during the construction of the Hogback Road in said township. The exact time is not now known.

The exact residence of any of the above parties are not at this time known, except that Edwin H. Sheeley, it is believed resides in the Town of Shawangunk, and Garrett Van Wagenen in the Town of Denning. Except as were stated at this time, it is not known in what other years and to what other persons such information was given or statements made by the said County Superintendent.

IV. With respect to Paragraph 12 of the alleged charges and Paragraph 7 of the Demand for a Bill of Particulars, the names and addresses of the persons discharged for political beliefs and affiliations, so far as are now known, are David Brown and John Holmer, both of the city of Kingston, Ulster County, New York, about February 23, 1934, and Clarence Haliker of the Town of Harderburgh, some day during the second week of October, 1932, the exact date being unknown.

V. With respect to Paragraph 12 of the alleged charges and Paragraph 8 of the Demand for a Bill of Particulars, so far as is not known, the following sums were diverted and misappropriated in the years 1929 and 1931, being in some instances unexpended balances for projects previously authorized to be constructed and some being the projects described in Paragraph 12 of the charges.

VI. With respect to Paragraph 12 of the alleged charges and Paragraph 9 of the Demand for a Bill of Particulars, materials consisting of cut stone could have been bought of one Joseph Coughlin of Ellenville, New York, at $2.25 per yard, the sale of which was offered to the County Superintendent of Highways at said price by the said party at the time of the commencement of the construction of the county road known as No. 89 in the town of Shawangunk, in connection with the construction of said highway. It is not known at this time whether such offer was oral or in writing, said offer having been made to the County Superintendent of Highways, and others than here stated. The exact time is not known. The numbers of other highways for which materials were offered for sale as referred to in Paragraph 12 of the alleged charges are not now within the knowledge of the undersigned.

VII. With respect to Paragraph 12 of the alleged charges and Paragraph 10 of the Demand for a Bill of Particulars, the name of the person owning and operating the quarry is Joseph Coughlin of Ellenville, New York. The name and addresses of the men employed by said party who are alleged to be residents of the county of Ulster is information which it is submitted, the said James F. Loughran is not entitled to receive, although at this time the names and addresses of such employees are not known.

VIII. With respect to Paragraph 12 of the alleged charges and Paragraph 11 of the Demand for a Bill of Particulars, it is submitted that the County Superintendent of Highways failed properly to compute an estimate of the cost of construction of the highways described in Paragraph 12 of the alleged charges, all of which resulted in the overdrift referred to in the charges, and in appropriation of funds insufficient to complete said projects being in the payroll on file in the County Treasurer's Office. The men so selected were during the construction of the Bloomington-Creek Locks Road in the Town of Rosendale in 1931, and in the Town of Marbletown in 1931 and 1934; in the Town of Denning in 1929; and the Towns of Shawangunk and Harderburgh in 1929. The names of all of the foremen to whom instructions were given as set forth in Paragraph 12 of the charges are not now known, some of them being as follows: Frank Russell, who it is believed was employed as foreman on the Bloomington Road during the time of its construction; Edwin Sheeley, who was employed as foreman in the year 1929 on jobs in the Town of Shawangunk and the Town of Denning, and one John Ham. The address of Frank Russell so far as known is the Town of Saugerties, and Edwin Sheeley in the Town of Shawangunk. The address of John Ham is not known.

X. With respect to Paragraph 12 of the alleged charges and Paragraph 13 of the Demand for a Bill of Particulars, the name of the person owning and operating the quarry is Joseph Coughlin of Ellenville, New York. The name and addresses of the men employed by said party who are alleged to be residents of the county of Ulster is information which it is submitted, the said James F. Loughran is not entitled to receive, although at this time the names and addresses of such employees are not known.

XI. With respect to Paragraph 12 of the alleged charges and Paragraph 14 of the Demand for a Bill of Particulars, it is submitted that the County Superintendent of Highways failed properly to compute an estimate of the cost of construction of the highways described in Paragraph 12 of the alleged charges, all of which resulted in the overdrift referred to in the charges, and in appropriation of funds insufficient to complete said projects being in the payroll on file in the County Treasurer's Office. The men so selected were during the construction of the Bloomington-Creek Locks Road in the Town of Rosendale in 1931, and in the Town of Marbletown in 1931 and 1934; in the Town of Denning in 1929; and the Towns of Shawangunk and Harderburgh in 1929. The names of all of the foremen to whom instructions were given as set forth in Paragraph 12 of the charges are not now known, some of them being as follows: Frank Russell, who it is believed was employed as foreman on the Bloomington Road during the time of its construction; Edwin Sheeley, who was employed as foreman in the year 1929 on jobs in the Town of Shawangunk and the Town of Denning, and one John Ham. The address of Frank Russell so far as known is the Town of Saugerties, and Edwin Sheeley in the Town of Shawangunk. The address of John Ham is not known.

XII. With respect to Paragraph 12 of the alleged charges and Paragraph 15 of the Demand for a Bill of Particulars, the name of the person owning and operating the quarry is Joseph Coughlin of Ellenville, New York. The name and addresses of the men employed by said party who are alleged to be residents of the county of Ulster is information which it is submitted, the said James F. Loughran is not entitled to receive, although at this time the names and addresses of such employees are not known.

XIII. With respect to Paragraph 12 of the alleged charges and Paragraph 16 of the Demand for a Bill of Particulars, it is submitted that the County Superintendent of Highways employed two (2) clerks in his office only, and classifying them as laborers, when in truth and in fact the said parties were performing clerical work and were subject to the provisions of the civil service laws of the state of New York, and not properly apprising the board of supervisors thereof, but upon information and belief, allowing the board of supervisors to cover a recent serious accident to his hand. One evening last week he and a friend were demonstrating their skill as unerring axemen. Mr. Davis laid a match on the wood splitting block but the blade in the hands of Alvin Markle cleaved the thumb and middle finger instead of the index head. Mr. Davis was taken to a hospital by his son-in-law, Chet Lyons, where surgeons were busy for several hours making repairs under local anesthesia. Mr. Davis says never again will be tempted at a similar game.

The April meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will take the form of a public meeting, at which the members of the women's organizations of all the churches in the city are invited as special guests.

Anticipating a large audience, the meeting will be held in the main Sunday school room of St. James' E. Church, Thursday, April 19.

Action Over Age of Car in County Court

A civil action was taken up for trial in county court Monday afternoon before Judge Traver and a jury. The action is an appeal from Justice's court of the town of Wawarsing and involves a sale of a motor car. There is a dispute as to the age of the vehicle. The seller claiming it is a 1931 model and the buyer claiming that she found it to be a 1930 model after she had paid for it. Elsa Stanhope is the plaintiff and she brings her action against Raymond and Aza S. Gray of Spring Glen, doing business under the name of Gray's Garage. John A. Ronconi appears for plaintiff and LeRoy Lounsberry for the defendants.

The case got off to a bad start when Judge Traver asked for the complaint and the answer. The complaint was produced but the answer was not forthcoming. Mr. Lounsberry explained that the answer was a part of the justice's return and he had supposed it would be produced in court while Mr. Ronconi claimed that he had made a search for the document and was unable to find it although there was a record of its having been filed with the justice's return. A twenty minute recess was taken to give County Clerk James Simpson time to make a search for the missing paper. When the trial was resumed it developed into a hot battle between counsel.

Plaintiff claims she turned in her Whippet car on a Plymouth which was represented to be a 1931 model but later she found it to be a 1930 model and brought suit. The defendant contends that it is a 1931 model.

The action will be concluded this morning.

Prior to the civil case being taken up Assistant District Attorney N. Levan Haver said that no criminal cases were ready, the Alexander Kish murder case going over until the conclusion of the Cohen-Rand case which is scheduled for Wednesday. The John Brodhead case was put over until April 23 due to engagement of Mr. Brinnier, counsel in the case. The Raymond Crans case was also put over until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Witnesses in the cases were instructed to appear at that time. The Joseph Barley case was put over the term. Frank W. Brooks appeared for defendant.

Judge Traver announced that after No. 16, the case now on trial was concluded, in all probabilities that would be the last civil case to be tried and criminal work will be taken next week and continued until the calendar is exhausted.

Every Day this Salesman Knocks at 9,038 Doors

....and ALWAYS Finds Somebody Home

IT'S putting it mild to say that the Daily Freeman is a welcome salesman. If it ever fails to show up at a front door our circulation department gets a nasty phone call. Yet the Daily Freeman doesn't try, ahead of everything else, to be a salesman. Its main purpose in life is to inform and entertain, as any well-written, well-edited newspaper should do. Meeting its readers on their own terms, it lets them sell themselves—the secret of good salesmanship the world over.

That's why the Daily Freeman is one "business visitor" that's accepted socially by most any family when it is in a social mood. It interviews each buying member of the household when the sales-resistance bars are down. It is accepted by them all as an old family friend. Which isn't hard to understand. For the Daily Freeman bears the stamp of reliability. Readers depend on it—from Mother with her recipe-problems down to Junior who mixes sports with his comics.

It is believed.

And it will sell more merchandise for you for that reason alone.

Class Basketball Championship To Be Decided At K. H. S. Tonight

Yesterday afternoon at Kingston High School came the Class basketball championship game. End Fresh B defeated End Fresh A for the championship of Division I of the mass of 1 Field 22 and Senior E easily routed Senior C, 21-14, for the championship of Division 2. The winners of these two games, End Fresh B and Senior E will meet tonight in the big school gymnasium, a game that will decide the class basketball supremacy in Kingston High for 1934.

In the first game last night, the battle of the Freshmen, End Fresh B managed to keep ahead of its rivals. End Fresh A started the game but sometimes was ahead by only the slim margin of one point. It was at the time of the final whistle, Jordan of the winners and Bill Meagher of the losers were tied for scoring honors, each collecting sixteen. This game was by far the most interesting and exciting of the two games played last night.

The second game between Senior E and Senior C was rather disappointing and was far from the type of game a championship bout generally is. Senior E was "on" and played basketball as though they were going to a fire, while Senior C was decidedly "off" and did not play the caliber of ball it usually does. Senior E took the lead early in the game and remained ahead throughout.

Nearly Princeton and Yale always hold a major interest for metropolitan fans but right in their own backyards this season they have a chance to inspect the operations of such craftsmen as Lou Little, with his roaring Columbia Lions. Mal Stevens, the Yale physician now administering fresh gridiron serum to New York University's Violets. Jimmy Crowley, the well known horseman, riding hard on the Purdham Rams. Benny Friedman, Michigan's one-time all-America quarterback and for years a professional star, now in charge of City College; and last but not least, the affable showman, Chick McLean, who will have his Manhattan boys doing a lot of tricks in the game and remained ahead with no difficulty whatever.

Bud Munson was high scorer of the game football and each has some highly interesting and effective ideas about what can be done by college boys with 11 points. Munson was next with 6, while King led the losers with 4 points. The last time these two teams mixed it up, the game had two extra periods and ended in a tie. Each was decidedly "off" and did not play the caliber of ball it usually does. Senior E took the lead early in the game and remained ahead throughout.

SPORT SLANTS By ALAN J. GOULD (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The galaxy of football coaching talent now facing the spring foundation for better things this fall in the metropolitan New York sector is one of the most interesting the college sport has known around the Big Towns.

Nearly Princeton and Yale always hold a major interest for metropolitan fans but right in their own backyards this season they have a chance to inspect the operations of such craftsmen as Lou Little, with his roaring Columbia Lions. National Pennant Race Free-for-All

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, April 17 (P).—For the 59th time, the National League joined in big time baseball's rousing chorus today, with no less than seven of the eight clubs harboring honest hopes of making pennant music next September.

Forecasts of clearing skies in the east and fair weather in the middle west indicated all four opening games would be played with a turnout of some 100,000 baseball-hungry fans who have spent a long, hard winter studying an unprecedented number of playing shifts which may turn the pennant race a much more exciting free-for-all even than those of recent National League history.

Whatever the final outcome, President John Arnold Heydler and the owners as well confidently expected a real financial recovery after several lean years. Legalization of Sunday ball and prospects of a close, hard fought race right down to the finish in September all figured to produce a heavier play at the turnstiles. Some 35,000 fans were expected at the Polo Grounds where the Giants, starting his first full season in charge of the St. Louis Browns, has failed to hint at expectations of being up there, but he can't see the Browns finishing last again this year.

The weather behaving, around 90,000 fans were expected at today's four openers. The Yankees and Athletics at Philadelphia, figures to attract 30,000, with 20,000 at Chicago to see Mickey Cochrane make his debut as Detroit's manager, against the White Sox; the same number to watch St. Louis and Cleveland at Cleveland, and 15,000 for the delayed Washington-Boston entertainment.

Lesser crowds were in prospect for the other three get-away games—30,000 at Cincinnati where the rebuilt Reds, operating under the new ownership of Powell Crosley, Jr., and his associates, were to be unveiled with the Cubes as opposition; 10,000 at St. Louis for the Cardinal-Pirate tussle; and 25,000 at Brooklyn where Casey Stengel's Dodgers faced the Braves.

Despite the fact he has discovered a 110 or 111 mile is nowhere near good enough to beat Cunningham.

Meanwhile, what's to prevent Bill Bontrong joining the party at Franklin field? Certainly Cunningham would welcome the only runner to beat him this year, and so would perhaps 50,000 track fans. As long as Glenn is taking the trouble to come all the way west again, it would seem no more than courtesy for Princeton to send its star miler to the mark.

Newburgh, April 17.—As a special thank offering of $2,000 for the use of a motor vehicle an inspection committee of the New York Catholic Charities of the Diocese of Albany announced at dinner at Newburgh yesterday evening that the Archbishop has as archbishop and John McGabe, rector both of New York. The dinner was arranged by the Cardinal Hayes as archbishop and John McGabe, rector both of Brooklyn, which was held Saturday evening.

Cardinal Hayes in his pastoral letter read Sunday morning at Masses and from time to time celebrated the trip anniversary which falls this year 20 years a bishop, fifteen years as archbishop and ten years a cardinal.
He had suggested that any urge to this direction take the form of generous to the Catholic Charities and he organized fourteen years ago along diocesan lines an incitive policy upon becoming archbishop.

The speakers at the Newburgh dinner, the first of five similar ceremonial affairs in the archdiocese, pointed out that since the organization to Cardinal Hayes, then archbishop, the Catholic Charities of New York has grown to the largest single charitable unit under private auspices in the country with 212 agencies in behalf of which $15, 000,000 has been contributed and expended in the fourteen years of its existence.

The dinner brought together Catholics from Dutchess, Ulster, Orange, Rockland and Sullivan counties.
